

New Spring Storm Moves Into Rocky Mountains

13 Inches Of Snow Falls In Colorado

DENVER, April 7 (AP)—A new spring storm, heavier in some areas but lacking the punch of the recent blizzards, buried the Great Plains with snow for the third time today in two weeks.

Carrying little moisture, the snow piled 15 inches deep at Leadville, high in Colorado's central Rockies, and 18 inches at Colorado Springs. It ranged from an inch deep in southeast Colorado to 10 inches reported at Lander, Wyo.

The air generally was calm except in the higher mountain passes, where 25 m.p.h. gusts were reported at Wyoming's Sherman Hill, between Cheyenne and Laramie, and at Berthoud Pass in Colorado.

Road Closed

Berthoud, more than 11,000 feet high on U. S. Highway 40 west of Denver, was the first road section to be closed in either state. Soon heavy drifts forced the closing of U. S. Highway 24 between Colorado Springs and Limon, an area which suffered heavily in the blizzard of March 23-24.

Last Tuesday another storm dumped 17.3 inches of snow filled with moisture in the Denver area and left the parched Eastern Plains with its greatest snow saturation in 22 years.

But today's new snow, lighter and drier, was expected to have little real effect on the improved drought situation.

Throughout the Rocky Mountain region rural roads became impassable as the snow continued. Only emergency travel was advised. There was no reported interruption in bus or airline travel.

Cars slipped off roads freely, but not a single major mishap was reported.

Light snow continued to fall also in Nebraska, South Dakota, Kansas, and northern New Mexico.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Denver said the snow probably would end by early tomorrow.

Congress To Enter Annual Procedures

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Congress is getting ready to go through one of its annual and painful procedures—restoring in one year many of the appropriation cuts it boasted about in the previous year.

A second supplemental money bill is being processed by the House Appropriations Committee and it will contain money to augment current fiscal year funds advanced by Congress last year. In some instances, the extra money is needed because of contingencies which have arisen since last year's money was provided. In other cases, the cuts made last year turned out to be too deep.

After the 1956 appropriation bills were passed, Congress voted pay raises for many federal employees. The cost of these raises was not included in the regular bills.

New Programs
Congress also voted for new programs such as flood insurance, for which the pending measure would appropriate 50 million dollars. The United States' share of the cost of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East is $6,600,000, an expense not foreseen when the 1956 bills were passed.

Not all of the money appropriated in supplemental or deficiency bills wipes out cuts made in regular bills, but much of it does. In its regular appropriation bills passed last year, Congress claimed an aggregate reduction of more than a half-billion dollars from the amounts requested by President Eisenhower.

35 Perish In Plane Crash

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil, April 7 (AP)—A Brazilian airliner crashed in flames today at Bage, in southern Brazil, killing all aboard—35 passengers and five crew members.

The plane, a Varig Line craft, was on a flight from Livramento, on the Uruguayan border, to Porto Alegre. Seventeen passengers boarded at Livramento and 18 at Bage, midway point on the flight, just before the fatal takeoff. Witnesses said an engine caught fire.

Summerfield Maintains Seriousness In Plans To Reduce National Post Office Services

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield said today he isn't bluffing in planning to reduce postal services unless Congress gives him the extra 47 million dollars he insists he needs.

Summerfield said the order for the cutoff of some services, effective next Saturday, is already in the hands of postmasters all over the country.

In answer to questions on an ABC TV-radio interview—"Press Conference"—the postmaster general agreed that if the curtailments are put into effect it will

Reuther Raps Leaders Of Free World

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 7 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther today accused the leadership of the free world with failure to understand the dimensions of war and peace and described the labor movement as the vanguard in the struggle against "Communist tyranny."

"We need... fewer striped-pants diplomats and more practical diplomats in overalls going around the world talking to people of the world about their basic problems," he said in keynoting the United Auto Workers convention.

Reuther, president of the million-and-a-half member union, said Secretary of State Dulles has "taken us from crisis to crisis and brink to brink... and is the major architect of the Middle East crisis... and has missed more diplomatic targets than anyone."

Keys

Poverty and hunger are the keys to Communist infiltration, Reuther said, and added:

"When the free world labor movement fights for social justice against poverty and hunger... it does more to fight communism in one week than all the fat cats of Wall Street do in their whole lives because they stand in the way of progress."

The only defense against the H-bomb, the expression of the moral crisis of "man's growing immortality to man" is "uncompromising peace," Reuther said.

Switching to the AFL-CIO merger, Reuther described the major problem as jurisdiction between craft and industrial unions but he said a solution can be found through "sane and sensible" negotiation with "arbitration as a final step."

Reuther described the suspension of Dave Beck from the AFL-CIO as an indication "we are not going to compromise with corruption in any labor union."

Signal Depot Barracks Work Delayed

By Paul Carlson

TOBYHANNA—Improper curing of concrete has caused a bottleneck in the construction of the new $700,000 enlisted men's barracks at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot. The Daily Record learned last night.

Col. Allen F. Clark, Philadelphia District engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers, confirmed the fact that the bottleneck occurred while concrete was being laid by the New Jersey contracting firm of B. J. Lucarelli.

However, Col. Clark indicated that the snag is of a relatively minor nature.

Clark reported that workmen had poured the concrete for a small portion of the enlisted men's quarters near the end of a work week. Over the weekend, the fires went out in this section.

As a result, the district engineer revealed, officials could not be certain that the concrete—involving a floor slab and a couple of columns—would develop its proper strength.

Therefore, experts from the Army Engineers' Ohio River Division were called in last week to test the concrete, Clark said. The results of their tests are expected by the middle of next week.

If the concrete is found to be all right, work will resume on this section of the building, he said. If not, the job will have to be done again.

When completed, the two-story building will house some 326 men.

American Tanker Completes Trip Through Tiran Strait

EILAT, Israel, April 7 (AP)—A Trail-blazing American tanker, the 10,441-ton Kern Hills, began pumping Iranian oil into waterfront tanks at this Aqaba Gulf port for Israel today.

Israeli soldiers with machine guns stood watch over the job.

The first tanker and the biggest ship ever to anchor at Eilat, the Kern Hills sailed in yesterday under the U.S. flag with 15,000 tons of oil from the Persian Gulf after a history-making but uneventful voyage through the disputed Tiran Strait.

Israeli censors screened the vessel's identity overnight for security reasons. The restrictions on the New York tanker were lifted today.

Israel hailed the voyage as a forerunner of many others to come on regular schedule and as supporting her contention that the Tiran Strait, the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba, is an international waterway open to all shipping.

Emergency Force
U.N. Emergency Force troops stand watch now over the strait, which Israel wrested from Egyptian gunners in the Sinai invasion last fall.

Egypt and Saudi Arabia, which lies east of the strait, declare the passage is through Arab territorial waters and that they intend to keep blocking Israel's commerce as that of an enemy nation.

Glenn E. Moseley, captain of the Kern Hills, said it would take 36 hours to pump the 1,000 tons of fuel oil and 15,000 tons of crude oil into shore tanks.

Moseley, a husky sea veteran who sports a crew haircut, said he expected to sail at midnight Monday for Djibouti in French Somaliland to get new orders.

The vessel is expected to return to the Persian Gulf for more oil for Israel. She is under charter by the Israeli-owned Delek Fuel Co. She has been under Israeli charter since leaving New York in January.

Moseley said the Kern Hills' home port is New York, although until last December her home port was Wilmington, Del.

Moseley comes from Portland, Ore. He said the tanker is owned by the Fairfield Steamship Co. of New York and operated by the North Atlantic Marine Co. It was built in Sausalito, Calif., in 1945.

Week Of Tributes
HAVANA, Cuba, April 7 (AP)—Thousands of wildly cheering Cubans massed around the presidential palace today in a demonstration climaxing a week of tributes to President Fulgencio Batista.

mean all mail will be slowed down, including government mail. This no doubt, he said, could affect the operations of other government agencies.

One questioner brought up whether Summerfield was bluffing as Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee has declared. Saying he wasn't, Summerfield added later that he believes Cannon is "so upset because Congress has failed" to vote for the higher postal rates which the administration has long been seeking to wipe out the Post Office deficit.

"I think he—Cannon—feels the American public and the members of Congress ought to be given a shock" by showing them what will happen if the rate increases aren't provided, Summerfield said.

Summerfield said unless the money is in sight by next Saturday he will start putting into effect a series of cuts in service. These would include closing all post offices on Saturdays and Sundays, the discontinuance of Saturday mail services except special delivery items, and an embargo on third class mail.

Bandit Chief Adds Wife To Murder List

TEHRAN, Iran, April 7 (AP)—Patrols hunting the dwindling gang of bandit chief Dadshah for the massacre of three Americans have found his pregnant third wife dead on the trail, apparently sacrificed to speed the flight.

Gen. Ali Gollira, commander of Iran's national police, said today a captive tribesman told him Dadshah killed the woman because she could not keep up. She died in the Lashar area of the desolate mountains near the Iran-Pakistan border.

Similarly, Mrs. Anita Carroll of Issaquah, Wash., was reported slain primarily because she would have been a drag on the gang's escape.

Few Hours

She was killed a few hours after the ambush murder March 24 of her husband Kevin Carroll, a U.S. Point Four aid official, Brewster Wilson, Near East Foundation specialist, and two Iranians.

Gollira quoted the captive, Ahmed Vajehi, as saying the gang—then numbering 24 heavily armed men—decided for two reasons to slay Mrs. Carroll a few hours after making off with her:

1. She was unable to keep up afoot with their procession, paced by horses and camels.

2. She could not understand their language.

Vajehi told the police commander the bandits pretended to set her free, then shot her down without warning when she was about 100 yards away. She fell with a bullet in her right lung.

Arrested yesterday in the hunt for still engages more than 1,000 armed men, Vajehi said the gang had impressed him as a porter.

He witnessed the killing of all the American party, he said, and later escaped.

Restlessness Rate Eases

VIENNA, Austria, April 7 (AP)—Restlessness eased somewhat today among Hungarian refugees who had been plunged into despair by reports of a stoppage in the United States refugee resettlement program.

Austrian social workers said the announcement of a U. S. State Department spokesman in Washington that there had been no decision on the question did much to calm the camps of the disturbed fugitives from communism.

Leader Urges Radar To Fight Speeding

HARRISBURG, April 7 (AP)—Gov. Leader today called for legalization of the use of radar to help enforce Pennsylvania speed laws.

In a statement announcing the proposed administration introduction in the legislature of a series of traffic safety bills, the governor declared:

"We have reached the point where we must use every enforcement weapon possible if we are to reduce killings on our highways. We are not playing games. Obviously, this is a matter of life and death."

O.D. Shipley, director of the state Highways Safety Bureau, said that among the 14-bill package is a measure that would legalize chemical tests for suspected drunken drivers.

Package

Shipley said that other parts of the package would provide for periodic re-examination of all licensed drivers over 65 and would require mental institutions to furnish the bureau with information on the release of patients not considered competent to drive autos.

Leader listed these other bills in the package:

Make mandatory reduced gear operation for trucks on dangerous hills posted with maximum speed limits.

Control off-the-highway glare from signs, service stations, shopping centers, etc.

Provide for adequate emergency lights on school buses.

Permit the use of red lights on snowplows, cinder trucks and school buses.

Require county coroners to report fatal traffic accidents to the state.

Lenten Meditation

By Rev. Robert T. Zach Hamilton Lutheran Parish

AS THE OUTCOME of your faith you obtain the salvation of your souls. (I Peter 1:9)

In this Season of Lent you may ask, "What am I to do about Lent?" Surely the Church sets aside this precious season for self examination. It is so easy to criticize others. When we turn to look at ourselves it is a different picture.

There are so many little excuses why we do not do the things we should. We are too busy or too tired. When it comes to giving what we should of our gifts from God back to His Church, too many bills have to be met. These are only a few simple examples.

Let us use this holy Season to strengthen our faith by prayer, by worship, by giving. Then as the glorious Easter Day approaches we can rejoice with our fellow Christians with real joy in our hearts. As St. Peter reminds us in his first letter, "As the outcome of your faith you obtain the salvation of your souls." What finer reward can we ask for?

Signings To Take Place In Both Boroughs

PETITIONS calling for the consolidation of Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will be placed in circulation in the twin boroughs today.

This was announced in a meeting of the Central Labor Union last night at the CLU Social Club, East Stroudsburg.

The organization represents some 2,700 union members. It went on record last month for merger of the two boroughs and appointed a committee to take whatever steps are necessary to put the consolidation movement into action.

Ralph Paul and Paul Dellaria, members of the committee, reported at last night's meeting on the legal procedures that must be followed in bringing about the merger.

The first step is to obtain the names of 130 registered voters of each borough on petitions that are to be presented to the respective borough councils. The number of names on each petition is based on 10 percent of the qualified electors living in each borough.

The councils will have 60 days in which to act on the petitions. If they reach a joint agreement within that time, the consolidation will become effective.

Other Course

If either or both councils turn down the proposal, one other course is open to proponents of the merger. That is to distribute second petitions for presentation to the county court of quarter sessions requesting that the proposal be placed on the ballot at a public referendum.

Upon receipt of such petitions, the court shall fix a date for hearing, which shall be held within 30 days from the date the petitions were presented. The court, if satisfied, shall order an election be held in each borough.

The Act of June 10, 1947, Public Law 1621, was quoted by legal counsel in detailing the procedure required for consolidation. The following are excerpts from the act:

"(a) The councils of the boroughs may of their own initiative, or shall, within 60 days after each is requested in writing by at least 10 per centum of the registered electors of the respective borough, enter into a joint agreement, under the corporate seal of each borough, for the consolidation thereof into one borough.

"The joint agreement shall set forth the name of the new borough, the number of wards, if any, into which the borough is to be divided, and the territorial boundaries thereof.

"Where such agreement provides for wards, if the consolidation becomes effective, two councilmen shall be elected in each ward.

"It may also set forth such terms as have been agreed upon for the disposition of the assets of each of the boroughs, and for the liquidation of the indebtedness of each of the boroughs, either jointly, separately or in certain defined proportions, and the adjusting and paying of the same by separate rates of taxation on all property subject to taxation within the boundaries of such boroughs respectively.

"(b) If the councils are unable to effect such joint agreement within 60 days after each shall have been requested so to do in writing as aforesaid, or if any reason the councils fail to effect such joint agreement within said 60-day period, the court of quarter sessions of the county or of any of the counties in which any of said boroughs are situated shall, if satisfied, after petition or petitions presented by at least 10 per centum of the registered electors of each borough and hearing held thereon, that the councils have failed, after being duly requested in writing as aforesaid, to enter into such joint agreement, enter a decree for an election to be held in said boroughs on the question of consolidation of said boroughs into one borough.

Decree
"The decree of the court shall fix the date for such election, designate the name of the new borough (which name shall be as prayed for in the petition or petitions), the number of wards, if any, into which the consolidated borough is to be divided, the territorial boundaries thereof, and for the election of two councilmen in each ward, and shall also set forth such terms as appear equitable, just and proper to the court for the disposition of the assets of each of the boroughs and for the liquidation thereof.

Superior Court To Make Ruling On Obscene Motion Pictures

By Paul R. Carlson

THIS IS AN important week for every parent in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Superior Court, which convenes in Pittsburgh today, will decide whether the wording of Section 528 of the State Penal Code is too obscure to permit the conviction of a man on the charge of showing an obscene motion picture.

The court will make its historic decision on an appeal of a Lackawanna County drive-in theater manager who was fined $200 and sentenced to three months in jail for showing an obscene movie.

It will be the court's job to determine if the word "obscene" is defined with sufficient clarity in the state code. It will not be an easy task because a thing may be obscene to one individual and not to another.

However, teachers and clergymen of all three major faiths deplore the fact that children are being exposed to motion pictures and reading material which incite them to commit lustful or criminal acts. It is not a pleasant fact.

While church leaders, law enforcement officers and others are fighting such filth, they have repeatedly pointed out that parents have a real stake in what their children read and see.

Because of the timeliness of the issue, The Daily Record has invited two local clergymen to comment on the matter:

REV. E. ROBERT GALLAGAN, Pocono Catholic Mission: Obscenity in any form is morally harmful. We may include movies in the sense of what a legislative group in Albany said for the benefit of New York State on March 6, 1957:

"These publications, which are being sold in large numbers to minors, and the practice of advertising lurid and unnatural sex in motion pictures and other media, are contributing to juvenile delinquency, stimulating sexual desire, inciting to sex crime, leading to perversion and posing a serious threat to our standards of morality."

What can be done about it? Listen again to these interested legislators of New York:

"Parents, educators, enforcement officials, and community groups must greatly intensify their efforts if the new standards of the state are to be cleansed of publications which continue to feature, illustrate, describe, glorify and exploit sex, sexual immorality and perversion."

Not only do churches have the duty, but civic groups and service clubs, should accept the challenge to strongly voice their indignation within the community and to our elected legislators. It is definitely morally right to have a law which bans obscenity in any form.

What is one of the prime purposes of law? It is to provide for the welfare of the community.

ity. This is easy to understand when one reflects on the pure food laws. Certainly, it would be more profitable and convenient at times for certain manufacturers to use inferior foods or containers, but law prevents this to protect the community health.

How ridiculous would these manufacturers appear if they shouted that the pure food laws were unjust because they curtailed their freedom to poison the public. But obscene and indecent movies and magazines poison the public's minds. Therefore, the purveyors of filth are being ridiculous when they claim to be victims of unjust law. Since it is far worse to poison people's minds, it is not only morally right but most necessary to protect them from mental poison by adequate laws.

REV. ROGER C. STIMSON, Stroudsburg Methodist Church: When we look over the display of magazines at newsstands, we are struck by the volume of material. Familiar books have such new formats that they are not readily recognized.

There are many fine magazines, including some plans and pictures of homes which inspire us to improve our present houses or dream of new ones. But there seems to be a dearth of good fiction and far too much light emphasis upon sex and brutality. There is a host of paperback books, mostly with covers that stress the lustful and evil passions of the characters of the book. Some good books are given this drastic treatment in an effort to gain wider sales.

Parents as well as religious leaders and teachers need to be more concerned about what our children read and what they see and hear on television, radio and at the movies. It is our responsibility to safeguard their moral and to give our children a good heritage of ideals and habits of thought. It is the responsibility of the community to adopt and enforce laws that will prevent the sale of literature that fills the mind with sordid trash and promotes delinquency.

We must also provide excellent literature at reasonable prices that will be an adequate substitute. There is such material available, but it does not receive the publicity or promotion of the questionable material.

An important factor in growth is the development of value judgments. The wise use of the leisure time of our children is the result of parents who care—spending time, money and attention for the welfare of their off-spring. It is not enough just to feed, clothe and house our children. We must, in season and out of season, feed the mind and spirit of our children with the best. This is a duty we must not abdicate.

Rotary To Convene At Pocono Manor

POCONO MANOR — District 262, Rotary International, will meet here on April 12, 13, and 14 for the annual conference which will be highlighted this year by messages from Japan, Germany, and Australia, as well as the United States.

Registration is scheduled for 10 a. m. on Friday, April 12, followed by luncheon at 12:30 p. m., with Dr. Biagio V. Manganiello as host president.

The first plenary session begins at 2 p. m. with Donald E. Davis as chairman and Andrew W. Lewis, of Pittston as speaker on "The Great Questions". A community service panel includes Paul T. Ryder, Honesdale, moderator; Dr. S. A. Jones, Nanticoke; Joseph J. Lally, Olyphant; Ivo V. Giannini, Scranton; and George M. Rhodes, Stroudsburg.

A conference tea will be held at 4:30 p. m., with dinner at 6:30. C. Emory Diffenderfer is host president and Toshio Yoshimura, of Japan, will speak on "Japan and Rotary."

Citations will be awarded to club presidents and secretaries, and music will be provided by the Kingston High School Concert Ensemble. Hiram W. McGrath, Rotary International President's Representative, will speak on "Holding Hands."

Adjournment — Sessions adjourn at 9 p. m., reconvening with an 8 a. m. breakfast meeting on Saturday. Corey E. Patton, Wilkes-Barre, District Governor, will preside at the Governor's Corner; Kenneth L. Rounds, New Milford, at the President's Corner; M. E. Kuchta, Clarks Summit, at Secretaries' Corner; and Thomas E. Lehman, III, Wilkes-Barre, at Committee-men's Corner.

"Chain Reaction" will be Dr. Gordon D. Bell's topic at 10 a. m. Following the Kingston speaker will be a panel, "We Look at America," with George F. Ralston, Wilkes-Barre, moderator; Toshio Yoshimura, Japan; Walther von Diest, Germany; and Owen G. Carter, Australia.

John H. Reinhardt, Hazleton, will discuss "For Sake of Honor" following the panel.

A smorgasbord luncheon at 12:15 features Edwin Garhammer as host president. Walther von Diest will speak on "Rotary and Germany," followed by an address by a United Nations representative.

At 2 p. m., speakers will be Frank Dolbear, "The Individual Rotarian"; Stroudsburg Rotarians, "The Key to Many Doors"; and Charles E. Dearnley, "Mirror, Torch, Enterprise, Friend."

A reception for District Governor nominee will be held at 5 p. m., followed by a 6:30 banquet at which Patton will preside. Music will be provided by the Colgate University Chorus. Talks include "Rotary and Australia," Owen G. Carter; and "Atoms for Peace," the Hon. James E. VanZandt.

Newfoundland Firemen To Take Part In Spring Cleaning

NEWFOUNDLAND — Greene-Dreher volunteer firemen, adept at operating equipment and fighting fires, will prove their versatility this month when they begin Spring housecleaning with an eye to improving the grounds around the fire hall. Offers of assistance will be most welcome.

Strategy in the clean-up campaign was mapped at the April business meeting held last week in the fire hall when a new portable pumper purchased by the fire association was displayed.

Design — Designed to increase the mobility of the company in fighting fires some distance from a water supply, the new pumper may be used to pump water directly at the scene of a fire, or into the regular pumper which normally would have to be stationed only 20 feet from the water supply.

Firemen, who termed the new piece of equipment "something we have wanted for a long, long time," pointed out that the portable apparatus can be carried wherever needed and will be especially valuable in spots where the heavier equipment cannot be maneuvered.

Every Thursday night is a training night for any men over the age of 18 who would like to be instructed in the art of fire-fighting or of operating the equipment, according to Fire Chief Charles Ehrhardt, who, with Chief Engineer Jake Robacker, is always on hand to lead the training sessions.

Still using the "Pump and Carry" system?

It's time for a MYERS Pump

The average family without city water spends about 240 hours a year pumping water. That's 24 ten-hour work days. At wages of $1 per hour, the cost would be $240.

A Myers Pump costs much less. With average electric rates, the power to run a home water system costs as little as 1c per day.

Six-Room Home In Marshalls Creek Area Burns To Ground

Horton Place Family Escapes Without Injury

VIOLENT FLAMES, whipped to white-hot intensity by high winds, roared through a six-room frame house at East Stroudsburg RD 1, before dawn yesterday, leveling the house and leaving a family of four homeless.

It was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Place. This was the second time in three months that tragedy had hit this one family.

The first occurred shortly after Christmas when six-year-old Sally Place was injured in the right eye by a pointed plastic toy. The child is still undergoing treatment for that injury at a Philadelphia hospital.

According to an aunt, Mrs. John Place, Sally's sight is slowly fading in the injured eye.

Marshalls Creek fire chief Ralph Miller said that the fire was discovered at shortly after 4 a.m. by Horton Place.

Place told firemen that he and his wife, Emily, "are both sound sleepers—but at about 4, I woke up." Place did not know whether it was a "sound or the smell of smoke" which awakened him, Miller said.

Smoke

When the father awoke he found the bedroom occupied by his wife and himself was filled with smoke. Place awakened his wife and told her "to get out of here as fast as you can," Miller said.

Place pulled on a pair of work pants and work shoes then dashed down the long hallway through the bathroom which separated his bedroom from the room occupied by his two daughters, Sally and Nancy, 10.

Grabbing the children in his arms he raced out of the house. Once out on the lawn, leaving the children with their mother, Place tried to re-enter their home to get to the telephone.

By that time flames had begun to rip through the first floor and streak up the sides of the house. Place could not get back into the house.

At about this same time, Place's sister-in-law, Mrs. John Place was awakened in her own home about 200 yards above the Horton Place residence by the sound of her telephone bell.

Mrs. John Place got out of bed, went downstairs to answer the phone. When she picked it up, the line was dead and "there was no one there."

She then went back upstairs, preparing to go back to bed. Looking out her bedroom window, Mrs. John Place said she "saw the flames shooting out from the roof of Horton's house."

She screamed at her husband. They had just got downstairs when the Horton Place family arrived from their own home, she said.

Emily Place and her two daughters were still dressed in their nightclothes. The family had been able to save nothing from their house except the night clothing and work clothes Horton had grabbed from a bureau near his bed.

The Horton Place home had just been newly-painted, fire chief Miller said. When the fire department arrived at the scene, firemen found that the whole house was a mass of flames, Miller reported.

Firemen stayed at the home for an hour and a half, trying to beat the flames down. High winds made the flames uncontrollable, Miller said and the home was burned to the ground in less than an hour after the blaze was first discovered.

Miller said that "if the ground hadn't been so wet" firemen would have had another battle on their hands as sparks and huge chunks of flaming wood whipped from the house into nearby woods and brush.

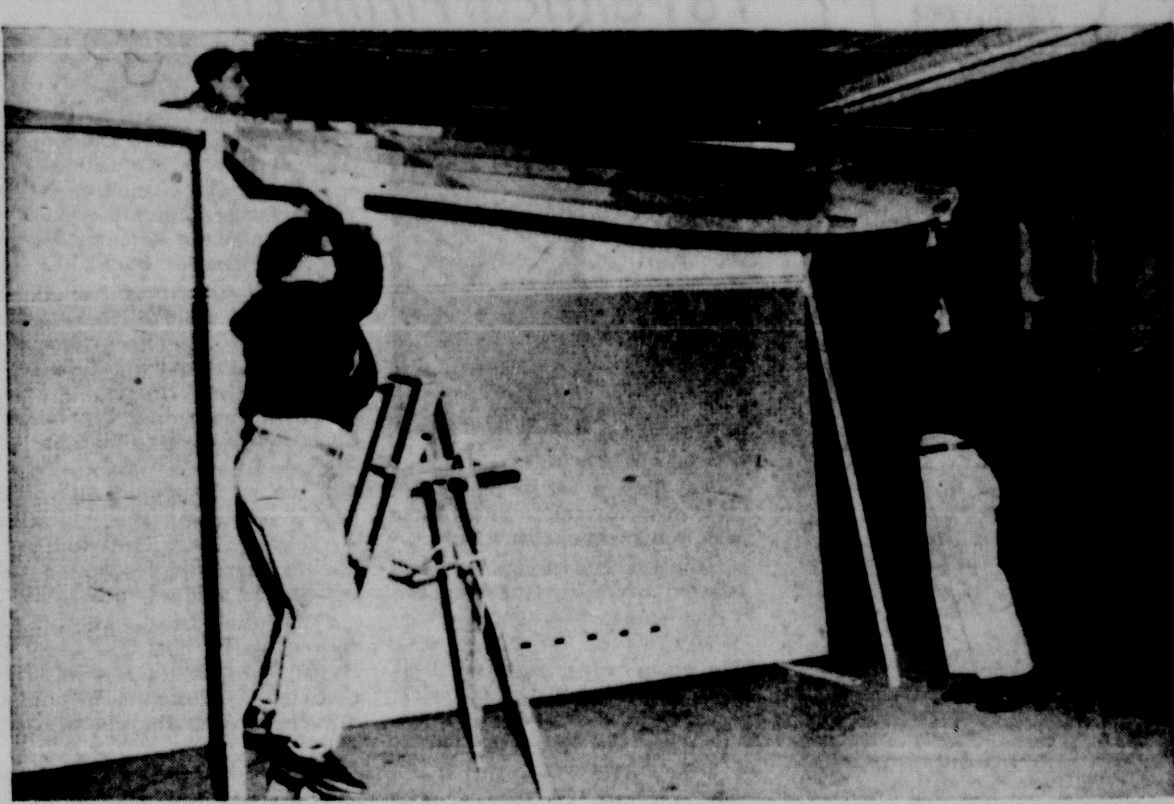

Soaking rains and heavy snowfall in the area this past week had saturated trees, brush and ground so that the flames did not spread, however, he said.

Last night, Horton and Emily Place were staying with relatives until they could move into a temporary home at Werry's Motel on Route 209 near their former home.

The bungalow at Werry's was being "aired out" and "heat was being turned on" yesterday in preparation for the move, according to Pardee Place, half-brother of Horton, who, with his wife, owns and manages the motel.

At the same time multiple efforts were being carried out within the community to help get the Place family sufficient clothing and other furnishings to install in another home.

The initial effort in this case was made by the fire company whose members brought in a load of clothing.

99 Exhibitors Slated To Be Represented At Eighth Annual Pocono Mountains Hotel Show

A COMPLETE sell-out for the eighth annual Pocono Mountains Hotel and Restaurant Show was announced last night by J. Horace Strunk, executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

The show will open tomorrow at 1 p. m. in the Penn-Stroud Exposition Hall and continue until Wednesday at 7 p. m.

Strunk said the hall can accommodate 70 booths and all have been sold. Ninety-nine exhibitors will be represented at the show, to which nearly 4,000 guests have been invited to attend, Strunk added.

A kick-off luncheon at 11:45 a. m. tomorrow will mark the show's official opening. It will attract purveyors and members of the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and the Chamber of Commerce. The luncheon, said Strunk, will take the place of the annual Vacation Bureau dinner previously held on the last night of the show.

Board meetings of both the PMVB and the C. of C. are scheduled for 11 a. m. at the hotel. Following the luncheon, at 1 p. m., there will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the entrance to the exposition hall. Jill Asure, whose father Paul Asure is president of the Vacation Bureau, will cut the ribbon.

Show officials said the exhibits and attractions will range from color television and lake cruisers to radar ovens and the latest in sports cars.

Eighteen booths were set up over the weekend. The balance will be erected today and tomorrow morning.

Staging Of Church Play Draws Praise

By Leonard Randolph

A GOOD dramatic play can do more toward teaching a valid lesson for human life than all the tracts in the world—if the play is well done, if it has good actors and if its basic approach to the problem at hand is not, by its own nature, so negative that it defeats the purpose.

At Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg Saturday night a small group of persons were privileged to watch and hear a fine production of "Christ in the Concrete City," a play which juxtaposes the Passion of Christ with the day-to-day denials and betrayals of modern man.

Most of the value the play had—and this was very large—lay in the merit of its staging by Charles Michael Bruch and his assistant Anne Weidner. Bruch directed the drama within the confines of the small church "playing area" to remarkable advantage. Under his knowing instructions the script came to life with integrity and honesty, even when the play itself was being pseudo-poetic or slightly pretentious.

In general I should say the style of "Christ in the Concrete City" is equivalent to warmed-over Eliot with a dash of Norman Corwin thrown in for good (or bad) measure. It is a play with the best of all possible intentions—it wishes to wake people up in its audience and make them serve the ways in which they, themselves, betray Christ by judging their fellow man, by gossiping, by making childishly petty denunciations of others, some of whom were probably sitting alongside them.

Since the author's name is unlisted on the program and the play was apparently done "on commission," according to Bruch, for a British chancel drama society, the writer will have to remain anonymous. As a piece of drama, the playwright has given us a "shock" play. It is designed to rock the boat of complacency and to show its viewers the troubled waters all around us.

It becomes, therefore, a little like "shock" therapy in psychiatry. The method is effective—as far as it goes. But does it go far enough? I do not think so.

The members of the cast (Terry Maphis, Jon Parker, Beverly Thompson, John Arthur, Lady Mary Watson and Sarah Barber) were amazingly effective most of the time throughout the play changing characters in an instant and displaying a technical skill in their movements which gave the play a thoroughly professional atmosphere. I thought they were excellent.

The play was brought here from Washington, D. C., where it has been produced by Bruch and Miss Weidner for the St. Michael's Society of the Church of the Ascension and St. Agnes. It was a generous gesture on the part of Bruch, his assistants and the actors. And it was a gesture which should have been appreciated more, I think, by the community.

As a play, however, "Christ in the Concrete City" is like the Cross without the Resurrection—the blood is all there, but the heart is only partly in evidence. It hammers home its several points of condemnation of modern life with dynamic fervor, and no one will deny that these points must be made.

KEEPING TABS on area stream conditions are Judge Fred W. Davis, Monroe County Civil Defense director, and his executive assistant, Mrs. Earl Miller. These precautionary measures were taken as local creeks swelled to near capacity over the weekend. Fire companies throughout the area were also on alert. (Staff Photo by MacLeod)

Large Crowd Expected To Attend Association Banquet

NEARLY 300 persons are expected to attend the fifth annual banquet of the Monroe County Tavern Assn. tonight at 7 in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

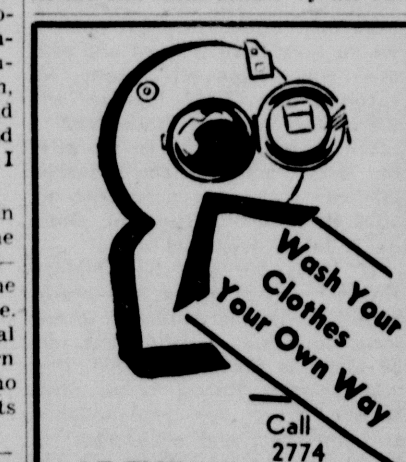

The estimate is based on the number of reservations made by the weekend deadline, according to Mrs. Rose Smith, chairman of arrangements.

There will be dancing to the music of Raoul Longworth's orchestra after the dinner and introduction of guests. No speaking program is planned, it was disclosed by Mrs. Mary Rinker, president.

Hit-Run Accident

ABOUT $50 damage was caused to a 1951 sedan last night when it was struck by a hit-run auto at the intersection of Second and Fifth Sts. in Stroudsburg.

Borough Police said a car operated by Charles Butz, 53, of 600 Fulmer Ave., was attempting to make a right turn off Fifth St. into Second when his vehicle was struck in the left front fender by the other.

The problems federal and state legislators face in striving to bring budget proposals in line with available income can be illustrated by a news dispatch we read over the weekend.

It seems that the U.S. House of Representatives had knocked 50 million dollars from the Health, Education and Welfare Department's appropriation bill. The money was to be used to help communities build sewage treatment works in a gigantic program to clean up polluted streams.

Immediately, a wave of protest swept the cities and towns that were scheduled to receive the funds and a movement was launched to persuade the House to reverse its vote.

Admittedly, the bill is one which has more than ordinary merit. The question as we see it is not so much whether the job is to be done, but more appropriately, who is to do it and who is going to foot the bill.

Since the days when public works expenditures became popular as a means of giving jobs to the jobless, the trend has been to look more and more to the Federal Government to do those things for people which they can do better and more effectively for themselves through their own efforts or their local government agencies.

The depression-born theory that can get something for nothing simply by letting Uncle Sam pay for it has long since exploded. Our national debt would be much lower today — and we would be paying less taxes — if we had utilized our own resources rather than relied on Uncle Sam for a solution to our problems in recent decades.

Governmental functions should be financed and carried out by the smallest units of government competent to deal with them.

Only when the job is too big for the local government should the county or state step into the picture. And neither should the national government usurp the powers and responsibilities that can be handled by the states.

If this theory were practiced all the way down the line from the Federal Government to the level of every citizen, we are sure there would be less difficulty in paring budgets and more opportunity for reducing taxes.

Savings Bonds Safest, Soundest Investment

U. S. Savings Bonds are the soundest and most practical source of mass savings in the world today. Why? Because their earnings, though modest, are certain.

They are promptly convertible. And even though one can point to a multitude of blue chip alternatives in today's favorable economic climate, the Savings Bond is the real rock in heavy weather.

If every American were born with a built-in instinct of thrift; if all persons found easy access to comprehensible and honest financial counseling; if every man were endowed with a little "mad money" that he could afford to lose while breeding it with opportunity—that would be one thing.

But such is not the case. So the people, the masses of people, need inducements to simple and sure savings—bonds paid for by withholding, for example. And because the people have confidence in their government, more than 30 percent of Americans' liquid savings are held in Savings Bonds.

Ten million families bought bonds in 1956. They might have done better. They surely could have done worse. But what they did was safe, sane and in the public interest — including their own.

George Sokolsky Says...

Any Discussion Of Middle Eastern Picture Must Necessarily Consider Russia's Role

Nobody is going to solve the Middle East problem quickly or easily, because it is too complicated and there are too many factors in it. But this is certain: when the United States greased the British and French out of Asia and Africa, a political vacuum was formed which has not yet been filled. Although at one stage, it appeared that only Soviet Russia could fill that vacuum, today it seems as though no country can fill it short of war. Despite all sorts of statements by public officials, designed to allay popular indignation at a series of colossal errors, it is clear that it will be a long time before anything constructive appears.

Professor Hans J. Morgenthau made this point last November: "Another of the assumptions of our foreign policy has been the preservation of the power of Great Britain and France as members of the Atlantic alliance. Yet we cooperated with the Soviet Union in inflicting probably irreparable damage upon the position of Great Britain and France in the Middle East and in the world at large. Regardless of the intrinsic merits of their military venture, once it was started we had a vital interest in its quick and complete success."

However, we have not permitted the British or the French to succeed because we have pursued a doctrinaire anti-colonial policy for all countries except Soviet Russia and Red China, both having pursued policies of active colonialism against which we do not even voice paper protests. For instance, at the very moment that the American government was so vehement in its anti-British, anti-French, anti-Israeli positions, Soviet Russia marched into Hungary with all the vigor of 18th century colonialism and nothing in particular was done about it.

At one stage, it was assumed that it was American policy to support the United Nations at any cost in the hope that some substantial principles of international law could be established by precedents. Had there been no Russian intervention in Hungary and Poland, the United Nations might have established a set of precedents in the Egyptian-Israeli situation which could have laid the basis for the maintenance of peace by the United Nations. This, however, became impossible when a double standard asserted itself, one for Russia and Hungary; another for Egypt and Israel.

It was the double standard of morals which weakened the authority of the United Nations that, during the same period, was given a blow by Nehru who engaged in overt and even vicious imperialism in Kashmir and the United Nations was not able to do anything about that.

The United Nations is still inadequate for the task of maintaining the peace in what may be the fiercest war in human history—a war in which the weapons are so unconventional as to be hardly understood. The most powerful weapon in this war remains propaganda which in its negative sense means the weakening of the human mind until it ceases to be capable of resisting demonstrable falsehood and rejects all experience. Thus far, in that war, Soviet Russia has been extraordinarily successful, outdoing the Western world so completely that, for a time, it appeared that the Western cause was hopeless.

However, Russian competence in this field is frightening and while copied by many other countries, most governments fear the Russians because they ultimately take over either through natives whom they have trained and who are subservient to them or through a grid of Russian advisers and experts. Governments therefore fear Russia as an ally, for Russia acts like the proverbial camel that is permitted to stick its nose into the tent. Once in, it takes over and stays.

If it is correct that Middle Eastern governments are really afraid of the Kremlin, it offers some hope that a settlement can be found in the Middle East. For while Soviet Russia is an ally, Nasser must be irreconcilably anti-American and anti-Israeli; if Nasser fears Soviet Russia, he is bound to accept a compromise so that he can find a way of doing business with the United States and with other Western countries. In every situation, the pivotal problem is what is the strength of the Russians and what will they do. Therefore, to discuss the Middle East without taking Russia into consideration is fatuous and can lead to no realistic conclusion.

—by H. I. Phillips

The Once Over

A Ray of Light For World Peace Soviet Russia is introducing baseball and golf in its sports setup for youth. This can be the biggest help to world peace in years. Get the Russians onto the sand lots and into the ball parks and bleachers and they will wish to veto nothing but a few umpires.

"Play ball!" can exert a kinder influence than "Nyet!" The kids shouting, "We want a hit!" can mean a happier Russia than all Izvestia editorials. There is a music unknown to the Soviets in the crack of a bat. A world absorbed in box scores and batting averages would not be a world with a chip on its shoulder and suspicion in its soul.

The whole global picture could be changed if Moscow really goes for baseball. Here is a great nation that has never known the joy of munching hot dogs and peanuts in the bleachers on a summer day, heckling an umpire and thrilling to a home run in a crucial inning. Not a hero in Russian history has ever been photographed in a baseball suit or even with a catcher's mask.

We might have a world of understanding and good will today if years ago the Russians had known an Ivan (Babe Ruthsky, a Feodor Cobb, or a Gregory ("Honus") Wagnerish. Who can say the world would not be happier today if Joe Stalin had now and then recited "Casey at the Bat." What a sense of relief the globe would feel if it got news that Khrushchev on his third vodka had sung "Take me out to the ball game," and that Bulganin and Molotov were busy with a five-year frankfurter and roll program.

Golf? Well, we question how the Russians would react to this. No Communist would take kindly to penalties for a lost ball and would probably insist upon vetoing anything beyond his third putt. (There could be a lot of caddies sent to Siberia for handing a Moscow leader the wrong club.)

In golf one must take a competitor's word for his score and we fear Russia would angrily dispute a rival and at the same time refuse any inspection system covering its own. Somehow it is hard to picture Gromyko, for instance, in golf attire out in the open country, having an opponent beat him by one stroke on each hole and saying laughingly, "Oh, it's just a game and all in good fun."

Fore! But don't tell us, Mr. Pravda, that both the three bagger and the hole in one are Russian discoveries and that Lenin was a third baseman at heart.

Washington Impression like, may I show economy? Yes, it's what we're craving; Hang your clothes on a hickory limb But don't do any saving.

Jack Gould called the telecast of recent Hollywood "Oscar" ceremonies as a "tonal wake." We still don't see why there was any surprise about that expenditure for golfballs by Dave Beck... Look at all the drivers he was trying to help... The "five dozen diapers" item is harder to understand, but it certainly suggests an emergency... Outboard motors and aluminum boats? ... Well, maybe his original thought was to get from Miami to Nassau that way...

Census figures reveal that more women marry at the age of 23 than any other age in the United States.

Work Can Be Recreation If That's What You Enjoy

What's the difference between work and play, between fun and drudgery?

Most people would say, I'm afraid, that the difference is in money. If it's paid for, it's work; if it's not paid for, it's play. Or, if it's drudgery, you get paid; if it's fun, you don't.

Yet here are two couples, both of them young, who illustrate the fact that there's no such hard and fast distinction.

Ambitious Man Mr. A. has a job in a large company and he's pretty ambitious. He doesn't have much money now, but his prospects are good. He and his wife spend all of their free time in what can only be called apple-polishing.

A wife says it's important. Mrs. A. writes, "to socialize a lot with the people he works with. Of course, it's terribly expensive. We frequently have them here for dinner—we can't afford country clubs yet.

Added Chores "But I get awfully tired, sometimes, doing all the extra marketing—penny-pinching is more like it—and cooking and being social and gay. They aren't particularly fascinating group, and neither Joe nor I have any fun entertaining them, but he does feel that it will advance him in the company."

Now that, of course, is sheer drudgery—more difficult work than any job could be. And there isn't going to be any money in it either, because if the A's are bored with the whole thing, it's going to show. They're not going to win any friends or career advancement.

Love To Bake Mr. and Mrs. B., on the other hand, work their heads off in their free time. They have three children. Both the B's love to cook, especially to bake. They spend all their free time at it.

As Mrs. B. writes, "You should see our kitchen on week-ends! Even the children pitch in.

"My husband is proud as can be of his fruitcake, which is really divine. We supply cakes to all the church teas and, last Christmas, we sold seventy-three of them and cleared several hundred dollars profit, counting the cakes and all the cookies I made. We just love to do it and we're constantly experimenting with new recipes. Our friends think we're crazy, but we have a fine time. And it's profitable, too!"

Now that, of course, is sheer play—but it gets paid for! The way you spend your free time—your recreation—is much more important than it may seem. It will influence your personality, your future, your whole life.

What It Means So do remember that recreation means literally re-creation. Your free time should help you re-create your joy in living. Whether it's parties or hobbies, sports or a paying home project, is unimportant. What is important is that it should re-create you!

If you're having trouble finding a good recreation, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of this newspaper, and I'll send you my pamphlet, Pointers To Your Basic Interest.

Truman Announces Return To Political Firing Line

Washington, April 7 — Former President Truman is actively resuming his favorite occupation—political warring.

That was the main reason for his sudden trip to Washington. He conferred with Democratic leaders to inform them of two political decisions he has reached:

To play a major campaign role in next year's crucial state and congressional elections.

In preparation for that he has started accepting speaking engagements throughout the country.

No bones were made by Truman that his principal target is the Eisenhower Administration. It will get the full force of his ire and disapproval.

The opening in July of the Truman Library in Independence, Mo. to house his files and records, will clear the way for his return to the political wars. He explained this $1,500,000 project has been his main preoccupation in the last few years. But once it's launched, he proposes to concentrate on political battling.

"I never felt better," said the former President, "and there was never greater need for plain talk about what is going on at home and abroad. I am ready to speak for any real Democrat anywhere in the country. I am completely at your service, and eager to help in any way you want to re-elect an overwhelmingly Democratic Congress next year. You name it and I'll do it."

The congressional leaders were cordial and interested, but made no proposals. They neither accepted nor declined Truman's enthusiastic offer.

Among those attending this meeting were Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson, Tex., House Leader John McCormack, Mass., and Senator Mike Mansfield, Mont., party whip.

Note—Truman passed out a number of shiny new half dollars, explaining he got 72 of them on his 72nd birthday from an old friend. Invited to stay for a poker game that evening, the ex-President smilingly declined. "I'd like to very much, but I promised to be back in New York to learn how to do baby-sitting." He then produced a fifty-cent piece and asked that it be put into one of the game's pots.

Clamping Down—That backstage of House Democratic leaders for a sweeping investigation of federal regulatory agencies is running into a snag.

Republican chiefs have served notice they will do their utmost to block it.

That was the blunt warning of Republican Floor Leader Joe Martin, Mass., after meeting with other GOP leaders.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D, Tex.) strongly favors the proposed probe. He holds it is necessary because of the "marked deterioration in the quality of appointments to and the work of" these agencies.

Chief targets would be the Federal Communications Commission, Federal Power Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Securities & Exchange Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, and Civil Aeronautics Board.

The investigation would be made by a special House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Subcommittee, headed by Representative Oren Harris (D, Ark.). Martin made the Republicans' opposition known to Harris.

"Is it true you propose to ask $250,000 to investigate the regulatory agencies?" Martin asked. "That's right," replied Harris. Martin thereupon suggested this amount be reduced to $50,000. "That's far from enough," declared Harris, "and you know it. It will take at least $250,000 to thoroughly investigate the major agencies. And they sure need that."

"Then I want to tell you we can't approve that kind of an investigation," replied Martin. "We will have to fight it." "I'm not surprised," said Harris. "With the record of these agencies what it is, I can understand why you Republicans would be against investigating them."

Secret Drive—The U. S. is under heavy pressure from five leading allies to relax the ban against selling strategic supplies to Red China.

These allies are Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Japan.

No concessions have been made by the U. S. But these countries are shipping some strategic goods to the Communists.

This was disclosed by Thorsten Kalijarvi, Acting Deputy Undersecretary of State for Economic Affairs, at a private meeting with the House Appropriations Subcommittee headed by Representative John Rooney (D, N.Y.).

The embargo against Red China was imposed during the Korean war. Under questioning by Rooney, Kalijarvi assured the Committee the U. S. has no intention of changing its policy on that.

"Isn't it a fact that Britain is trading with Red China?" asked Rooney.

"Yes, and so are a number of our allies," replied Kalijarvi. "Not only that, but they are now pressuring us to permit them to sell additional items which we consider strategic. I can tell you that we have been subjected to the most intense pressure to relax our stand against strategic trade with Red China."

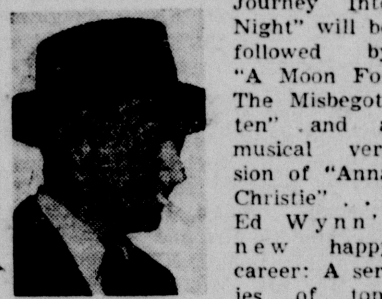

"Exactly who is doing this pressuring?" demanded Rooney. "Britain, France, Germany, Italy and, to some extent, Japan," said Kalijarvi. "They have exercised the greatest pressure against us. Britain has been the most insistent."

Note—Assistant Secretary Walter Robertson told the Subcommittee, at another meeting, there is no sign of a rift between Peiping and Moscow. "They are solidly aligned in endeavoring to communicate all of Asia," he said. "Russia is continuing to build up the military strength of Red China and Korea in direct violation of the armistice there."

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

The Broadway Show Eugene O'Neill dominates the show season. His "Long Day's Journey Into Night" will be followed by "A Moon For The Misbegotten" and a musical version of "Anna Christie"...

flight dramatic performances via movies and teevee. It couldn't happen to a more talented artist... Audrey Hepburn's return to the song and dance department (in "Funny Face" with Fred Astaire) is a Broadway must. She once was a chorine in the London version of "High Button Shoes." Astaire appeared in the Broadway production of "Funny Face" 30 years ago... H. Belafonte's versatility is showing again. He composed the background music for the upcoming picture, "Troop-er Hook"...

Another Birthday—Judy Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin, celebrated her 6th birthday on Wednesday with a party.

20 Years Ago Gradale — Mrs. J. W. Cooke was elected pres. of the Gradale Sorority at YMCA.

Mountainhome — Several hundred persons attended a public supper at Odd Fellows Hall, Mrs. Frances Rhodes was in charge.

Anniversary — Mr. and Mrs. Emory Anglenier, Appenzel, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at their home, with guests.

Nickle Fair — A Nickle Fair will be held at S. S. room of 1st Presby. Church under auspices of the Collins Bible Class. Mrs. Russell Harmon will be general chairman. A sketch will be presented by Mrs. L. J. Hampton, Mrs. Edward Hess and Mrs. Merle Stevenson.

Numa Snyder To Be Guest Conductor

By Jim Riley

Numa Snyder, veteran head of the Stroud Union High School music department, will be guest conductor of the Bradford County Chorus this year.

The concert is scheduled to take place today and will be held at Wyalusing High School. Snyder is currently one of the officials in the Northeast District Orchestra Festival now in full swing at Newfoundland.

Congratulations are certainly in order for the likeable authority on virtually every instrument and voice known to man.

In case anyone is interested, we are embarking on a big week today.

This is Let's Play Ball Week, Noise Abatement Week, Chemical Progress Week, Pan American Week, Sunday School Week and Model Building Week.

Thursday is Coffee Day and Saturday is Jefferson Day.

We forgot to mention that last Saturday was Army Day.

With this we close our history lesson for today.

Mrs. John Lim, 805 Main St., Stroudsburg, celebrated a birthday yesterday.

Mrs. Lim is one of the hardest workers in Monroe County and certainly one of the best liked. She is always aiding in worthwhile projects.

Here's hoping there are many more pleasant birthdays — they couldn't come to a nicer person.

Pvt. Tom Besecker is scheduled to arrive home from Fort Knox today. The Pocono High School graduate just completed basic training and is scheduled to be home for two weeks.

Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Besecker, who live in the Tannersville-Cherry Lane section.

George Brands, chief assessor of Monroe County, is one of the busiest men in the area at the present time.

He is scheduled to speak on assessment revisions and the equalization program at the Pocono Township Parent-Teachers Assn. meeting on Wednesday of this week.

The meeting will be held at Pocono High School, Tannersville.

Members of the cast of "The Man Who Came To Dinner," East Stroudsburg State Teachers College play presented last Thursday and Friday, must be wondering just what set fate up as their opponent.

The unlucky cast felt the sting of the weatherman, who sent two absolutely foul nights to the area last Thursday and Friday.

Crowds, although not as large as would have been the case with clear weather, were still good despite the weather.

Coast redwood trees in California have bark up to two feet thick.

OPEN HOUSE—and out in the open to get their pictures taken came Mr. and Mrs. William Frantz, 84 Henry St., East Stroudsburg. So many friends came to pay tribute to them on their golden wedding anniversary that the only place there was room to take a picture was on the front porch.

Mr. And Mrs. William Frantz Honored On Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William Frantz celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary yesterday with an open house at their home, 54 Henry St., East Stroudsburg. A family dinner at noon was followed by the open house when about 60 of their friends called to pay their respects.

They were married on April 6, 1907, in the parsonage of Rev. S. F. Laury in Saylorsburg. Mr. Frantz is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Frantz and was born in Scranton. Mrs. Frantz is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elias Berger, of Kunkletown.

It was in Kunkletown that they first made their home. Mr. Frantz taught school, mostly in the rural areas of the county, for 14 years, and then was employed as clerk by the Central Railroad for 15 years. At present he is employed at the State Liquor Store, East Stroudsburg, where he has worked for the past 21 years.

Mrs. Frantz is a member of the Daughters of America of Kunkletown, and Mr. Frantz belongs to the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Friendship and the Simpson Lodge, F & A O M.

Present at the dinner yesterday were their two daughters and their families including the great-grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Shupp, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Correll and children; Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and daughter.

All through the afternoon friends came to call. They received 7 baskets of flowers.

Assessor To Speak To Pocono PTA

Tannersville—George Brands, chief assessor of Monroe County, has been invited to speak to the Parent-Teachers Association of the Paradise Township School at their meeting on Wednesday night. The matter of tax assessment revision and equalization program has been a matter of prime importance to all school districts during this winter.

Brands will speak on the matter from the assessors point of view at the meeting and a large turn-out of members and other interested citizens is expected. There will also be election of PTA officers.

Egg Hunt Sat. For Children Of Bartonville

Bartonville—Children of the Bartonville area are invited to attend an Easter egg hunt to be held on the grounds adjoining St. John's Lutheran Church on Saturday afternoon, April 13, at 2:30. The hunt is sponsored by the Crusader Class of St. John's Sunday School and all members of the class are asked to contribute one dozen colored eggs.

Mrs. Holley To Be On TV Today

Mrs. Agnes Holley, wife of Stephen Holley, Chipperfield Drive, Stroudsburg, left the Allentown Airport at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning to fly to Los Angeles, California, where she will appear today on Bill Leydon's nationally televised program, "It Could Be You."

On the same program will be Mrs. Holley's sister, Kathryn Espinola, from Honolulu, who is to be surprised at the meeting. The sisters, both native-born Hawaiians, have not seen each other for 30 years.

The program may be seen locally today at 12:30 p.m. over channels 3 and 4.

Legion Aux. Unit Endorses Local Candidate For Co.

The Calico Cats were entertained by the Gingham Dogs as winners of the membership contest of the American Legion Auxiliary of George N. Kemp unit. The supper was held on Thursday night at the Legion Home. President Eppley presided at the business meeting which followed.

Mrs. Martha Koch was endorsed by the unit for desk office in the Four County Council. Next meeting of the council will be May 11 at Roseto.

In a report of the Junior Aux. activities, it was announced that the juniors had placed strings on the information tags for use in homes which may be used as mass care centers, and made nut cups for Easter for the veterans in the Wilkes-Barre Veterans Hospital.

An Easter egg hunt for the families of the Legion and Auxiliary will be held Saturday, April 13 at 2:30 at the Legion home, it was announced. Mrs. Joyce Reisenwitz is chairman.

Mrs. Helen E. Brush was accepted as a new member. Because of the weather, initiation of new members was postponed until the May meeting.

The executive board will meet at 8:30 instead of their usual starting time of 8 on April 19, which is Holy Thursday. Name as a nominating committee were Mrs. Betty Morgan, Mrs. Gertrude Blitz and Mrs. Martha Koch.

Mrs. Erva Miller Honored At Family Dinner

Wooddale—The birthday anniversary of Mrs. Erva Miller was celebrated by a turkey dinner served by her daughter, Mrs. Floyd Shoemaker at her home on Thursday night.

All of Mrs. Miller's five children were present: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thomas and foster children, Donald Hoover, Walter Elwine and Sandra Mosier; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and children, Charles, Serena, Delia and Shirley Mr. and Mrs. Albert LaBar and son, Jimmy; Mrs. Frances Besecker and children, Marie and Nancy; and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shoemaker and sons, John, Richard and Fred, and Miss Edna Mosier, foster daughter of Mrs. Miller.

Monroe Nurses To Attend Cancer Conference Today

Monroe County nurses will participate in a one-day cancer nurses conference, to be held at the Hotel Casey, Scranton, April 8.

The conference is being sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the Pennsylvania Nurses Association and the Pennsylvania League for Nursing.

Dr. J. William White, Scranton, conference chairman who is professional education chairman for the Lackawanna County Unit, ACS, has announced that the meeting is planned to provide nurses with the "latest information regarding better methods of public education, diagnosis, patient service, and solution of family problems relating to cancer. The conference will also familiarize nurses with American Cancer Society and community cancer services."

Prominent medical specialists and nursing leaders in the cancer control movement will present the program at the conference. The program will open with welcoming remarks by Dr. White. He will be followed by Dr. Thomas F. Nealen, Jr., assistant in surgery, Jefferson Medical College, who will speak on "Primary and Esophageal Cancer." Dr. White will then moderate

Eighty Young Republicans At Kick-Off

More than 80 Young Republicans and their guests attended the Spring Kick-off dinner held at Bill Altier's Inn on Saturday night at 7:30. A turkey dinner was served with William A. Rake, president, presiding, and Judge Fred W. Davis giving the invocation.

Toastmaster for the after-dinner program was former state senator, Montgomery F. Crowe. Among the guests who spoke briefly were Francis Mongi, district representative of the Young Republican Clubs; W. Adolph Rake, Republican member of the Monroe County Commissioners; Hanford L. Cleveland, State Representative from Monroe County; Tom Waring; and Judge Davis who spoke briefly on the ideals of judgship.

Chief speaker was John Deutsch, attorney from Carbon County, and president of the Carbon County Young Republican Club. He spoke on the functions of the Young Republican Clubs and the role they could play in practical politics and better government.

Jolly Jane Club Members To Work On Can. Crusade

Bartonville—Twelve members of the Jolly Jane Club of Bartonville attended a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Haviland Heller on Tuesday night, April 2. During the brief business session it was decided to make a donation to the Cancer Crusade. Four club members, Mrs. Roy Schreck, Mrs. Haviland Heller, Mrs. Fred Walters and Mary Allegier will be volunteer workers in the house to house canvass for funds.

Mrs. Frank Herting received the hostess gift awarded during the social hour.

April 16 was set as the next meeting night when Mrs. Marjorie Canfield will be hostess to the group.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Decorations were in the Spring motif. Favors were miniature birds, setting on jelly bean eggs, in a nest of artificial grass.

Present were Mrs. Emma Metzgar, Mrs. Vernon Wallace, Mrs. Frank Herting, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. Fred Walters, Mrs. Joseph Dunbar, Mrs. Roy Schreck, Mrs. Richard Coss, Mrs. Russell Bond, Miss Mary Allegier, Miss Emma Dunbar and the hostess Mrs. Heller.

Barrett Community Club Is Commended For Pre-School

Barrett—The Barrett Community Club has received commendations from the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs for the fine work they are doing in education, it was announced at the April meeting of the club held in the YMCA building in Mountainhome.

A report on the work done for the Barrett Community Club Pre-School Center, sent to Harrisburg by the education chairman, Mrs. Leon Meyung, was responsible for the commendation. It was sent in a letter to Mrs. Claude Leister, one of the committee-of-three at the head of the Monroe County Federation.

Money for the Pre-School Center and for the other welfare projects of the club will be raised at the annual fashion show to be held on June 28 at The Inn, Buck Hill Falls. Mrs. William Cairney, chairman of the show, reported on details concerning posters, tickets and music.

Miss Barbara Carlton presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Russell Dann, program chairman, introduced the speakers, Dr. W. Edmund Magann and Dr. Harold Tattersall, both of Mountainhome, who spoke on cancer.

Dr. Magann discussed oral cancer, warned against so-called "sure cures" and quacks, and explained the services offered by the local cancer society. Dr. Tattersall outlined the seven danger signals of cancer, explained the different types of treatments: X-ray, radium and surgery, and stressed the importance of periodic check-ups.

"Only a doctor can tell for certain if cancer is present," he warned "and periodic check-ups can prevent fear and mental strain regarding the disease. Most cancers can be cured if detected in the early stages."

A question and answer period followed the talks.

The club voted $50 for expenses to the state convention in Philadelphia with Mrs. Russell Brush, president-elect, chosen as delegate.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Ziegler, Mrs. Wayne Price, Mrs. Richard Price and Mrs. Glenn Warner.

Analomink PTATo Hear Dr. Rumsey

Ever since women were given the vote, a large segment of the sex has been honestly endeavoring to learn the proper, sensible use of that privilege. Originally there was a league of suffragettes . . . and this, in time, was succeeded by the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization devoted to the backing of ideas rather than individual candidates, which is increasingly active today.

As you have read in the paper, Monroe County is now to have its own League—one of forty in the state of Pennsylvania, and of 1000 throughout our nation. The League has 127,000 members in the United States alone, and additional membership in Alaska and Hawaii.

It was my privilege to have as a guest on Friday's Wyckoff Shopper radio program, Mrs. Bernard Ostrolenk, state board member who serves as state organizational chairman, and has been active in the League since its inception in 1920. The League's objective is "informed participation of citizens in government," and it hopes to embrace here, as elsewhere, a well-rounded membership of housewives, business women, club women, the educated and non-educated . . . just EVERY TYPE OF WOMAN who is an American citizen of voting age. What is more, seminars will be arranged at all hours—morning, afternoon, or evening—so that all members can study the same projects, regardless of work or household demands.

Mrs. Ostrolenk's appearance on the radio was arranged by Mrs. George Levin of East Stroudsburg, one of the many local women interested in promoting a county League. Meeting her was a most interesting experience. She is bright-eyed, dynamic, fluent, and keen—the kind of person whom we like to think of as a representative woman at the polls.

Our 82nd Anniversary Sale is prolonged for three more days because of the snowstorm and rain which cramped its style at the end of last week. This should be good news for both the men and women who haven't been able as yet to get in and select their Easter attire . . . It's pretty difficult to find our major appliance salesmen on the floor these days—they've sold so many washers, refrigerators, and ranges during the anniversary sale, someone is always rushing somewhere for a demonstration. The mailman did find our "Mrs. Mackey" the other morning, however, with a letter addressed "Mrs. Blanche Mackey, Miss Pancake of 1902." Enclosed was a page of pancake recipes—something to do with her trying to fool George, of our repair department, with a prepared mix when he will eat only her own homemade concoction . . . Dr. Nina Price is one of many "regulars" who make it a pleasant habit to dine with family or friends at least once a week in our Wyckoff Tea Room. This is convenient to know—because it's so easy to tell the waitress, "When Dr. Price is in today ask her to me up to the office to give me a shot. Tell her my head's been bursting for five days." The other day there were several patients on hand—you'd have thought Dr. Price was having a special Anniversary Sale too. She has been much honored lately, as you may know, and was a guest of honor at the recent alumni dinner of the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia. The doctor, who enjoys a good chuckle even at her own expense, was quite amused when the committee contacted her daughter, wanting to know whether or not she was able to get around by herself. "Imagine!" she laughs. We join the laughter—after 50 years, she can still dance jigs around most of today's graduates . . . If you'd like to be really elegant in your entertaining, and have 298 to spend, you might be interested in the truly elaborate safety match folders packaged by the dozen, and sold in our gift department. These are sequined, spangled, and have shell or fabric flowers. You'll also be interested in the excitingly decorated paper napkins from Denmark . . . All wool and more than a yard wide are the truly lovely afghans displayed in Amy Eilenberger's department, to show non-knitters what can be accomplished with a little yarn and one's leisure. Two of the most beautiful are the work of Hazel Henning, head of our Tea Room and Thelma Gordon, head of our children's department. And THEY'RE busy people.

Nearly 10 Million Homes Expected To Have Air Conditioning Within Five-Year Period

LAWTON HUFFMAN Co., of Craigs Meadows, local Carrier air conditioning dealer, reports that close to 10 million American homes will be completely or partially air conditioned within five years.

The company was quoting the prediction of George P. Robinson, residential sales manager for Carrier Corp., in discussing the role of the heating and air conditioning industry in a sound home improvement program.

And the biggest part of this increase in usage will result from modernization of existing homes rather than installation in new homes, Robinson stated in a panel discussion before the National Congress of Operation Home Improvement.

He pointed out that nearly half of all central air conditioning systems for residences and the majority of room air conditioners are currently being sold for existing dwellings.

Describing the rise of air conditioning as a clear illustration of the changing aspirations of the American family, Robinson called for major emphasis on positive measures to improve and keep a home modern rather than on maintenance alone.

"Oldness in a home is a matter of obsolescence not of age," he declared. "A home need never grow old as long as it changes and grows to keep up with the life and constantly changing needs and desires of the family."

"One of the greatest services Operation Home Improvement can perform for the homeowner in helping him to raise his standard of living is to crystallize the possibilities for improving his home so that it can continue to meet his developing wants and aspirations."

"Every dollar spent in such a home improvement program adds to the value of the house and the cumulative pride of ownership. If this were to become an important concern of most homeowners today, there could never be a question of blight."

Safety Belts Installed By Ford Garage

A FEW FEET of woven nylon rayon may hold the answer to your driving safety this spring.

The reason for this is simple: nylon and rayon are the materials which make up the Ford "Life-saver" seat belts.

These belts hold the answer to your highway safety because their chief purpose is to hold you... inside the car, within its protective steel shell.

Ford seat belts also hold you securely against the seat and prevent your being hurled against protruding objects in the car.

You can get a practical demonstration of Ford seat belts at Haynes Motors, N. Ninth St., local Ford dealer.

Haynes can also install these "Lifesaver" belts on any car, regardless of whether it is a late model Ford or another manufacturer's model.

Years of research and testing by Ford engineers and leading safety experts show that automobile seat belts properly made, properly installed and conscientiously worn will greatly reduce the possibility of serious injury in an automobile accident.

Ford seat belts are also the first which have been tested and proved to exceed airline and Civil Aeronautics Administration standards.

Unit Includes Four Popular Appliances

"DO YOU KNOW what the primary home-buying consideration is among most couples?" asks M. F. Weiss, Brodheadsville General Electric dealer.

When families go house hunting, one of the first things they do is look at the kitchen. They want a home with a convenient kitchen, a kitchen that is easy and economical to use and one which won't be hopelessly out of date in a short time.

The timeless styling, convenience, economy and compactness of the General Electric Kitchen Center are outstanding features of G-E's trusted name.

The center includes four appliances. It takes up only a few feet of valuable floor space, yet contains a new G-E washer-dryer combination. Disposal food waste disposer, automatic dishwasher and electric range.

All are mounted together under a magnificent stainless steel counter top. The top contains a sink bowl and four high-speed, flush-mounted Calrod cooking units.

Whether your problem is new construction or modernization, M. F. Weiss points out, here is a Kitchen Center which may be financed on a long term FHA basis.

Internally-plumbed connections make quick, easy installations. Hot and cold water supply plumbing trees afford one convenient hot and cold water connection for the entire Center. It is also pre-wired to all appliances.

Compactness, Convenience Here is beauty, utility and simplicity combined into one distinctively glamorous Center. Its timeless design will provide a lasting modern and convenient kitchen year after year.

The kitchen-laundry is amazingly compact... only 8 1/2 to 9 1/2 feet in length. Wasted space, time and effort are eliminated. The distinctive G-E Kitchen Center is truly the "kitchen of tomorrow" designed to last today.

For more information on this amazing Kitchen Center visit M. F. Weiss, Brodheadsville.

The Way of The Cross

By

Leonard

Randolph

Jesus Falls First Time, In Contemplation Sees Again Thirsting Souls Of All Men

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third chapter of a 14-part Easter season series to be written by Leonard Randolph. The series is entitled "The Way of the Cross." It will appear each day between this date and Easter.

OUT OF this wood that I have loved, they make my death on earth. Human, these hands of mine have shaped structures for men to rest upon or lie in sleep. Their sleep is ending now . . . and peace begins. This day will bring new quiet in their hearts that I, a carpenter, could never carve, alive. O, Father! There is such beauty in the grain of wood and in its simple majesty. All things in nature center in this wood—the rings of age, the circle of time, full splinters of maturity and green youth and decaying.

In these last hours if only I could make all men turn from themselves into the winding of this divine creation that is all the world—its wood, its breath, its breadth and beauty and its creatures.

Now, in this rough cross, let me build a new home for all men. For this wood I now carry is a house, a building for my Father's Love and Truth.

See the looks upon their faces as I fall. Here in these eyes there is reflected all of the attitudes of Man on earth toward

You, my Father. Behold this woman lurching at me from the corner of the crowd, whose spiteful trickles now upon my cheek. This face is twisted in a triumph of disgust and wild contempt for me and for my seeming weakness.

They have been waiting for this and they have challenged me that if I be Your son, that I should call on You to reach down and save me. They shall not see, today, that you and I are one and in this oneness they are one also; that all that I have done was done not only in Your name, but in You and by You in me. And all that I am yet to do shall make them one with me and with each other.

I hear a sound of waiting far back beyond the chattering of these men and women who keep close by to watch me fall. There are the huddled forms of those who have loved me. O, Father! Help them know that I have lived for these men, too—for this poor soldier who raises his whip and draws new blood from my fast-shrinking flesh; that I am his just as I am theirs; that they, even in their sorrow and long-lasting grief are part of him in his unfeeling cruelty. Help them that they may know, too, that this weight which I carry is not of wood and not of nature. That it is beyond measurement and horrible to carry only because all that men have done against You and Your word lies here, burrowed like the fretting worm within the grain of these great slabs of wood.

There is some disappointment in the crowd that I am on my feet again. They are casting lots, I think, that I shall never reach the hill outside the city. Is it not proper, Father, that even on this bright day men must gamble with the lives of others?

A wind is rising now. It drowns the crying of the women on the fringes of the crowd; the loud laughter of these soldiers at my side.

Father! Father! No wind shall shake this wood on earth. No other hand shall ever twist these nails that I shall soon receive in Your name from mankind. No one shall weaken this eternal house I build upon my body, in glory to You.

By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

FOOTBALL is far from in the air, but a recent release by Pennsylvania Teachers College Football Officials assures the grid sport room in this column today.

The mimeographed sheet from the PTFC reveals East Stroudsburg State Teachers College conference grid slate for 1957. And for we fans that is news.

The Warriors of Eugene Martin will take on seven conference foes this coming season. They are Millersville, at home, Sept. 21; Shippensburg, away, Oct. 5; Lock Haven, home, Oct. 12; Mansfield, away, Oct. 19; West Chester, home, Oct. 25; Cheyney, away, Nov. 9; and Kutztown, home, Nov. 19.

Also on the Warriors striped-field agenda are two non-league games with Ithaca, home, Sept. 28; and Cortland, home, Nov. 9.

Like last year, Martin's football machine will take on more than their share of conference foes. And also like last year, West Chester, the defending champs, will play four conference games, enough if they happen to come out on top in all to win the diadem again.

From here, no league is worth the paper it's written upon, unless all teams play identical games or at least play the same number of games.

Maybe we got the wrong slant on the makeup of the PTFC. Possibly four equals seven, even if you don't add, subtract or divide.

Plus X High School of Roseto, still an embryo in the sports world, has started up the ladder. The other night, schools in the Anthracite Catholic Basketball League voted to admit the Royals to the circuit, starting with the 1958 campaign.

This is quite a leap for the State Belt schools who only two short years ago were playing javyee fives during their baptism of fire in the athletic world.

While it has not been officially announced, the Royal gridders will take on six varsity football foes this season—another step forward for Plus X sportswise.

The East Stroudsburg Midget Football League Father-Son Banquet slated for April 25 at Smithfield School, should be quite a social affair.

The Varsity "E" of East Stroudsburg, who will be "chad-dies" for some 50 midget grid players, hope that the Pas from Middle Smithfield, Smithfield and other outside areas, along with fathers from East Stroudsburg will attend the fete enmasse.

Besides giving the kids a lift by their presence, the fathers also will get the chance to hear Jack Kist, East Stroudsburg High's fundamentally sound grid tutor who is just as valuable as an after dinner speaker.

Samuel Budge, of Saylorsburg, is one of 21 candidates for the Muhlenberg College track and field teams. Budge is a sophomore at the Allentown institution.

We've been asked to comment on Ted Williams' latest verbal escapade, regarding the Marines. Sen. Robert Taft and the United States Government.

First we'll have to borrow part of Baron Munchausen's famous phrase and say "we weren't there, Charley." And second, and probably most important, is that the whole situation is best summed up by Ted's boss, Joe Cronin, general manager of the Boston Red Sox.

Cronin's reply to a question concerning the repercussion that was "heard around the world was, "It was just two Marines talking." Need more be said.

Doug Ford Storms Down Stretch To Grab Masters

Explodes 66 In Final Round To Erase 3-Stroke Snead Pad

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 7 (AP)—Unassuming Doug Ford, who plays golf like a race horse, stormed down the stretch like Nashua today and won the 21st Masters Tournament with a 72-hole score of 283.

Ford, the swiftest and about the busiest player on the professional circuit, fashioned a final round of 66 at Augusta National, capped by an amazing explosion shot that came out of the sand and plunked into the 18th hole.

4-Goal Rocket Amazes 2-Ex Hockey Greats

MONTREAL, April 7 (AP)—Two one-time hockey stars in the earlier days of Maurice (Rocket) Richard shook their heads today and wondered how the Rocket still does it.

The Montreal Canadiens last night grabbed a 5-1 decision from the Boston Bruins in the opening game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final and the 35-year-old Rocket supplied four of his team's goals.

Speed Amazing
Montreal coach Toe Blake, a former teammate on the famous line of Richard, said: "The Rocket's speed was amazing, particularly when he scored his second goal, cutting in around Fleming Mackell. I don't think I have even seen him go faster in my life."

Coach Milt Schmidt of the Bruins who played against the Rocket many a time, said:
"He played as well as he ever did."

Hurts Check
The Rocket nursed a sore left cheek as the result of a bump from Vic Stasiuk's shoulder when he was checked. He was happy but not effusive.

"Some nights you play well and the goals come; sometimes they don't," he said.

Richard took a bit of kidding as to why he didn't get a couple more goals, particularly in the third period, and beat his record of five in a Stanley Cup game, made 13 years ago.

Texans Build Up Monopoly In Sprinting

AUSTIN, Tex., April 7 (AP)—In Texas, where the deer and the antelope play and the runners are faster, a monopoly has been built up in sprinting.

Texas teams hold the recognized world's records in both sprint relays—the 440 and 880. Texas also has Bobby Morrow, the world's fastest man.

The Texas relays saw these terrific sprinters at their height the past weekend. First Abilene Christian College pushed Texas to the world's record in the 880, then Texas pushed Abilene Christian to the best time ever registered by a 440-yard relay team mulling around two turns.

9.3 Effect
Capping it all was a 9.3 100-yard dash by Morrow, Abilene Christian's sprint champion of the Olympic games. This tied the world's record but can't be accepted because Morrow had an 8-mile-per-hour wind at his back.

The Texas 880-yard relay team shaved 1.3 seconds off the world's mark held by Southern California and Abilene Christian with a 1:22.7 performance. Abilene Christian ran the 440-yard relay in 40.2 to better the world record claim of Texas for this event around two turns by two-tenths of a second. Morrow's great anchor lap made this possible.

Crowe's Wind Up DVL With 3-Point Win

CROWE'S Insurance wound up its 1957 Delaware Valley League season with a three-point victory over Parkway Bowling Center at Harmon's Recreation, East Stroudsburg, Saturday night.

Crowe's, with second place already in the bag prior to the match, hammered out a 2858 total and a 1023 singleton to solidify its runner-up position.

Javitt, Nittel
Johnny Javitt and Captain Jake Nittel paced the Eastburgers into the win column with 614 and 610 respectively. One of Javitt's games was a 256, while Nittel hit a pair of 200s—237, 205.

Kubek's Hit In 10th Canto Fires Yanks Past Bosox, 3-2

SARASOTA, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Rookie Tony Kubek's single in the 10th inning delivered the winning run as the New York Yankees bumped the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 2, for the third time in four starts in Grapefruit competition.

The defeat was the seventh straight for Boston against major league competition before 3,642 fans—a total of 29,650 in 12 games here—in the final game at Payne Park.

Before Kubek's sharp drive to right off Russ Kemmerer, all runs had been unearned. Kemmerer had set down 10 Yankees in a row before he walked Andy Carey who moved to second on an infield out.

Wall Leads Way

FT. MYERS, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Lee Walls hit a second inning home run today to start the Pittsburgh Pirates on their way to a 6-1 victory over the Kansas City Athletics.

Pirate Pitcher Vern Law gave up five hits and three runs in the third inning but finished the game without further trouble after the pirates tied it up in the fourth and went ahead in the sixth when Gene Freese got a hit and scored on Buddy Peitcher's single.

The Athletics' starting pitcher, Alex Kellner fanned five Pirate batters before being replaced at the beginning of the sixth. Lou Kretlow replaced Kellner and was charged with the loss.

The Pirates clinched the game in the seventh inning on a two-run double by Freese.
The Athletics put together two hits and an error for a ninth-inning run and had the tying runs on base when Louis Skizas flied out.
Law fanned three and walked two in the ninth innings.

Colavito Slams Three

DALLAS, April 7 (AP)—Rocky Colavito blasted three home runs to power the Cleveland Indians to an 8-7 victory over the New York Giants in a see-saw game before 5,153 at Burnet Field today.

Colavito's third clout, coming with one on and one out off reliever Johnny McCall in the top of the ninth, brought the Indians from behind.

With today's victory, the Indians widened their lead over the Giants by eight games to six in their annual spring series.

There were three other homers in the game, by Al Smith of the Indians and by Hank Sauer and Daryl Spencer of the Giants.

Cubs Win On Error

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 7 (AP)—A throwing error by bonus pitcher Billy O'Dell in the eighth inning gave the Chicago Cubs two unearned runs and their winning margin in an 8-6 victory over the Baltimore Orioles today.

O'Dell, who relieved starter Ray Moore in the sixth with the score tied 5-5, blanked the Cubs for two innings.

Jackie Collum, who relieved starter Don Kaiser in Baltimore's big fourth inning, was the winner.

Lou Boudreau, manager of the Kansas City Athletics, has been averaging 165 in bowling at Harvey, Ill., where he lives.

Taps Braves As 'Champion' In National

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7 (AP)—All signs point to another terrific pennant scramble in the National League among Milwaukee, Brooklyn and Cincinnati with the Braves the choice here to outlast the Dodgers on their fine pitching.

Many think Milwaukee has developed a "second place complex" after three of the last four years in the runner-up spot. It is generally accepted the Braves should have won last year but "blew it."

The thinking in this corner is that Manager Fred Haney who has been goading the Braves through grueling practice sessions in Florida, will have them ready to make a fast break for the first time.

Despite questionable spots at second base and left field, the Braves have a well-balanced club with solid home run power, fair defense and real top flight pitching.

Top Starting "5"
No other manager in the National League can match the starting "big five" of Warren Spahn, Bob Buhl, Lew Burdette, Gene Conley and Ray Crone. Improved relief by Red Murff, who pitched fine ball all spring, should help when the chips are down.

The Braves were the only club to take the season series from the Dodgers last year, 12-10, although Cincinnati broke even with Brooklyn. It does not seem likely that Milwaukee will have as much with this year's Phillies as they did a year ago.

The age of Brooklyn's regulars and the absence of Jackie Robinson are the factors that dropped them down a peg in this rating. At this moment, it is no certainty that Roy Campanella has regained his old batting power after the operation on his hand. Pee Wee Reese may need more rest than he did last year and Carl Furillo is in the 35-year-old bracket.

Same Power
Cincinnati has the same power-packed lineup, plus an added starting pitcher in Warren Hacker. However, the Redlegs still are shy on top flight pitching and still are a bit concerned about the physical condition of Frank Robinson, the rookie of the year of 1956 who has a sore arm, and Ted Kluszewski, who has been slow coming around.

St. Louis has added punch in Del Ennis but is thin in bench strength. If Vingar Bend Mizell hits his stride and Sam Jones can win regularly, the pitching should be better.

Philadelphia has real good pitching but little else while Pittsburgh, the surprise of last spring, has a good first line ball club with only two dependable starting pitchers, Bob Friend and Ronnie Kline.

Outdistanced
Both the Chicago Cubs and the hard-hit New York Giants appear to be outdistanced in this otherwise well-balanced field. If Andre Rodgers, the rookie shortstop, stands up, the Giants might do better than expected. The Cubs are in the midst of a major rebuilding process.

Pittsburgh's Bobby Bragan has picked up some second line strength for his outfield but still looks for pitchers to team with Friend and Kline. Vern Law is No. 3 but there is a big drop to the rest of the staff and no dependable pitching with Seth Morehead a potential regular.

Richie Ashburn in center and Willie Jones at third are the solid men with Stan Lopata behind the plate, Chico Fernandez, acquired from Brooklyn for five players and $75,000, may bolster the Phils' infield at shortstop—the team's weak link.

Redlegs Show Power
NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 7 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs slugged blasted out five home runs today to overcome a five-run lead and defeat the Washington Senators 9-7 before 5,842 fans.

Starter Joe Nuxhall spotted the Nats 5 runs on 8 hits before the Redlegs could get started. Cincinnati scored 2 runs in the fourth on Roy McMillan's single with Wally Post and George Crowe aboard.

Don Hoak started the home run parade in the fifth with no one on. Ed Bailey blasted the first of his two in the sixth, Gus Bell smacked a homer in the seventh with one on. Bailey's second of the game and Frank Robinson's game in the eighth.

Roy Sievers got a homer for the Nats in the seventh with teammate Eddie Yost aboard.

Hartman Will Hurl Today For STC Against Panzer

BUTCH HARTMAN, a barrel-chested left-hander, will carry the mound responsibilities of East Stroudsburg Teachers today as the Warriors shoot for its second straight win against Panzer on the "Hill" field, starting at 3 p.m.

Coach George Ockershausen nominated Hartman for the hill chore last night, but left the door open for another starter. Ockershausen, in making the announcement, said "Butch will go, if his arm is okay." Hartman had complained of a kink in his left flipper in the Warriors last pre-game workout.

Behind Plate
Slated to handle the porters' slants is Guido (Geets) Dittorice, ESSTC's hard-hitting catcher. The rest of the Warrior lineup will be the same as the one which scored a top-sided victory over Millersville in its inaugural last Wednesday.

In the infield will be Ed Brewer, first base; Dave Smith, second; Denny Roth, shortstop; and Johnny Powers, third.

Starting in the outfield will be Walt (Skeets) Jambinski, in left; Jerry Keyser, center, and Al Miller, right.

Also Available
In case Hartman does crop up with a bad arm, either Ted Bultovich, who went five against Millersville, or Bob Black, a freshman rightie, will get the nod.

Ockershausen plans to save his ace right-hander, Jim Oplinger, for Bloomsburg, defending Pennsylvania Teachers Conference champion, Wednesday.

Frank Grimm's East Stroudsburg tennis team also will seek its second triumph today. The Warrior netmen host Panzer's racketmen in a match, beginning at 2:30 p.m.

In its opener last Wednesday, ESSTC scored a 5-4 decision over Millersville's tennis team.

New Archery Club

THE NEWLY organized archery club of Saylorsburg will meet at the Saylorsburg Fire Hall tomorrow, starting at 8 p.m.

The selection of a name for the new group and other important matters will highlight the session. All persons wishing to join are urged to attend the meeting.

Club officers are Louis Steer, president; Jack Eckley, vice president; Edward Hugh, treasurer, and James Eckley, secretary.

Tunkhannock Wins

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., April 7 (AP)—Tunkhannock High School has won its first Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. volleyball team title. The new champions beat traditionally tough Homestead, 15-8, 15-12.

from Brooklyn for five players and $75,000, may bolster the Phils' infield at shortstop—the team's weak link.

Dupas, Martinez Go Features Week's Duty On Fight Front

By Murray Rose
The Associated Press

RALPH DUPAS steps into the welterweight class against stiff-punching Vince Martinez tonight and Ewart Potgieter, the lumbering South African giant, moves against fast company in Johnny Holman Tuesday. These are two of the more interesting fights on the week's boxing program.

Dupas, 21-year-old lightweight contender, and Martinez, a top welterweight challenger from Paterson, N. J., clash in an outdoor 10-rounder at Pelican Stadium, New Orleans. A crowd of more than 10,000 may pay close to $50,000 to see the New Orleans speed boy against the lower moving but harder hitting Jerseyite.

Potgieter, 24, 7-2 and 335 pounds takes on Holman, 29, 6-2, 200 pounder at Portland, Ore., Tuesday night. Holman not long ago was ranked in the heavyweight top ten and he can hit hard. If Holman is in top shape, this will prove whether Pottie is a freak.

Cartier Returns

Walter Cartier, the television actor-boxer from New York, makes the second start of his comeback campaign tonight against Jackie LaBua, East Meadows, N. Y., in a television 10-rounder (Dumont, 10:30 p. m.) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. The handsome Cartier, once a regular member of Phil Silvers' "Sgt. Bilko" TV cast. The platoon will turn out to root for him.

Featherweights

Featherweights Davey Moore, a member of the 1952 Olympic team from Springfield, Ohio, faced California's Gilly Cadilli in the Wednesday night radio-television (ABC 10 p. m.) 10-rounder at Miami's Biscayne Arena.

Middleweight contender Ralph (Tiger) Jones, Yonkers, N. Y., and Chico Vejar, another boxer-actor, collide in the Friday night radio-TV (NBC 10 p. m.) headliner at the War Memorial Auditorium at Syracuse, N. Y. Vejar has won six straight but the aggressive Tiger is the favorite.

Good Links Record

BETHLEHEM, Pa. — Bill Leckonby, Lehigh University's head football coach, also coaches the Engineers golf team. His linksmen have won 96, lost 21 and tied three in eight seasons.

Detroit Does About Face, Wins 5 To 4

LAKELAND, Fla., April 7 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, usually the victims in one-run games, defeated Philadelphia 5-4 today on the hitting of Charley Maxwell and the pitching of Frank Lary, Billy Hoelt and Jim Bunning.

Maxwell, held hitless only twice in exhibition games this spring, banged out a three-run double and a single to show the way in Detroit's assault on Phillies pitchers Jim Hearn and rookie Dick Farrell.

Lary and Hoelt each left the game for a pinch hitter, not because of trouble on the hill.

The Tigers went into the ninth with a 5-1 lead and Bunning found himself in trouble. Two walks, a wild pitch, and a home run by Ted Kazanski cut the Tiger margin.

Bill Tuttle's fine overhead catch of Frank Baumholtz' high fly ended the Phillie rally.

The Phils put together singles by Bobby Morgan and Kazanski to produce one run in the third.

Sees Wynn Ready By Opening Week

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Dr. Donald Kirby, Cleveland Indians' physician, said today pitcher Early Wynn will be ready for regular work by the opening week of the season.

Wynn, a 20-game winner four of the last six seasons, was injured March 17 during a pregame warm-up at the Cleveland camp in Tucson, Ariz. The 37-year-old veteran was sent to the Indians' minor league farm system camp here to rest and receive extensive treatment.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Department of Forest and Waters Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Secretary of Forest and Waters at Room 405, Education Building until 2:30 P.M. E.S.T. April 23, 1957 and will be publicly opened and read for furnishing one 1 1/2 cubic yard dragline, one bulldozer and one front end loader, complete with operators, fuel, etc. for stream clearance work on Saw Kill in the Borough of Milford, Pike County, Pennsylvania.

Specifications and Bid Forms may be obtained in the office of the Division of Forest and Waters, Room 405, Education Building, Harrisburg, or Stroudsburg District Flood Control Office, 11 South Seventh Street, Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check, bank cashier's or bank treasurer's check drawn to the order of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or a proposed bond in the amount of ten (10) per cent of the estimated bid. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned as soon as practicable after opening of bids.

A joint venture bid will not be considered and all proposals must be filed in signed and sealed envelopes. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive technicalities in bids.

MAURICE G. GODDARD, Secretary of Forest and Waters
